Turin, Novemb. 2.

THE City of Geneva has ſent hither an Envoy, who had ſome days ſince Audience of the Dutcheſs Regent, to whom he made a very reſpectful compliment in the name of the ſaid City, aſſuring her, that his Superiors were very ſorry their former conduct had given her any offence, which for the future ſhould be ſuch as became them. The Dutcheſs Regent heard the ſaid Envoy with much ſatisfaction, and diſmiſt him with an Aſſurance that ſhe ſhould be glad of any occaſion to gratifie the ſaid City in whatever they had to deſire of her.

Prague, Nov. 14. The Emperor has given Orders for the disbanding 4 Regiments of Horſe, four of Dragoons, and as many of Foot as make above 30000 men, and intends to keep a ſtanding Force of 24000 Foot, and 11000 Horſe and Dragoons..

Copenhagen, Nov. 18. We have an account that two Sueditſh Ships, having on board 14 or 1500 Soldiers deſigned for Pomeren, were caſt away ſome days ſince on the Iſle of Bornholme. Of thoſe that were in one of the Ships, only three eſcaped, the reſt being all loſt; but thoſe in the other had better fortune, and got aſhore.

Hamburg, Nov. 17. The King of Denmark, as we told you in our laſt, is returned towards Copenhagen; his Army is gone into Winter-quarters; the Ships belonging to this place, which were ſtopt at Gluckſtadt, are diſcharged, and the confidence of a firm Peace between the King and this City, is ſo great, that it is ſaid, that ſome of the biggeſt Daniſh Men of War, which at this time of the year are loth to put to Sea again to return to Copenhagen, will winter in this Port if it has their draught of water. It is reported that the King of Denmark before he leaves Holſtein and Sleſwicke will aſſemble a Dyet at Flensburg, heretofore uſually held with the joint conſent of the Duke of Holſtein, which could not now be obtained, ſo that it's believed the appearance there will not be very great. In the mean time the King of Denmark, to ſhew his reſentment againſt the Duke, has lately taxed every Plough in Holſtein at 18 Dollars. A Commiſſioner is come hither from the Elector of Brandenburg to reckon for the Prizes taken by his Privateers, and to defalk it out of the 125 thouſand Crowns which this City has agreed to pay his Electoral Highneſs for the extinguiſhing his Pretentions; to which the Payment of the Duke of Zell's Army, the acknowledgments to himſelf, and all other Charges this City has been at in this conjuncture, being added, will make a Sum amounting to little leſs then a Million of Crowns. It is now ſaid that the King of Sueden will ratifie the Peace made by Monſieur Rabenac at Zell, which he has hitherto refuſed to do, as being diſpleaſed with the Terms of that Treaty; however it is thought things will hang in ſuſpence, ſo that Bremen will not be reſtored till the next year. From Schonen we have advice, that the Sieur Jean Guldenſterne the firſt Miniſter and Favourite of the King of Sueden, is made Governor General of Schonen, Bleking, and Haliand; That he is to be ſent Ambaſſador to Copenhagen, to demand the Princeſs of Denmark in Marriage, which they ſay is to be conſummated at Gottenburg, where a general Dyet of the Kingdom is ſummoned; after which the King will return with his Queen to Stockholme; and that there is a defenſive Alliance treating between Sueden and Denmark.

Hamburg, Nov. 21. Count Coningſmarke, who is made Governor General of Pomeren, is arrived with 2000 men at Rugen; but there is a report that among the Ships loſt in the late bad weather, were ſome who were carrying Soldiers from Sueden to Pomeren, and that there are loſt 500, ſome ſay 700 men, Commiſſioners are appointed to meet here on the part of Sueden and the Princes of Lunenburg, to adjuſt ſeveral matters relating to the reſtitution of the Dutchies of Bremen and Verdun, to that Crown. From Denmark they write, that the King of Sueden had ſent a perſon of quality to compliment the Queen-Mother and Princeſs of Denmark (his deſigned Queen) and that the latter as a mark of her kindneſs to the Sueditſh Nation, had Clothed all the poor Suedes that had been priſoners at Copenhagen, and were now releaſed.

Hamburg, Nov. 21. The Elector of Brandenburg disbands, and the Princes of Lunenburg are going to do the like. On the other hand, the Swedes raiſe men to fill the places that are to be reſtored to them.

Strasburg, Nov. 20. We are told that the French are going to add new Fortifications to the Caſtles of Homburg and Biſch. On thoſe of Hunningen and Schleſtadt they work very hard, being encouraged by a great Sum of mony ſent from France by Bills of Exchange to Baſel.

Francfort, Nov. 22. The Plague (which is now conſiderably abated) has been ſo violent at Vienna, that it has taken away above 80 thouſand people, and emptied all the Convents, there remaining in that of the Jeſuites but three perſons, and in thoſe of the other Orders not many more. In Upper Hungary the Plague has been likewiſe very violent, to that degree, that it's ſaid, at Presburg there are hardly any Inhabitants left alive.

Lubecke, Nov. 23. The Letters from Pomeren ſay, that Straelſondt, Wolgaſt, Gripſwaldt, and the Penemunder-ſchans, were delivered up to Count Coningſmarke on Monday laſt. That Anklam and Demmin were to be evacuated this day, and the Town of Wollin to morrow; but of Stetin nothing is yet ſaid. The Suedes were no ſooner Maſters of Straelſond, but they aſſembled the Magiſtrates, took from them the Keys of the Town, and diſarmed the Inhabitants.
